

NOT TO ACCEPT ARMENIA MANDATE

Washington Surprised Over Supreme Council Request—Would Take 25,000 Men and Bring No Returns From Natural Resources.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, April 26.—Officials were surprised here today by press reports that the supreme council at San Remo is sending a formal request to President Wilson that the United States accept a mandate over Armenia.

The United States had previously indicated that it does not care to take such a mandate, it was pointed out, and with the treaty still unratified and strong opposition in congress to the maintenance of American forces abroad, there is little likelihood that the reported proposal from the supreme council will meet with acceptance here.

The report of Major General Harbord on the demands for a mandate over Armenia did not cause a great deal of enthusiasm in congress. This report showed that a mandate over Armenia would cost several millions of dollars a year and would necessitate American forces of 25,000 being stationed in Armenia.

Under such conditions there is grave doubt whether congress would make the necessary appropriation, even if the president asked it.

One high official significantly pointed out that a mandate over Armenia is a matter of expenditure, while other mandates that have been accepted by foreign powers bring returns through control over large supplies of natural resources.

FOUR DARING N. Y. ROBBERIES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, April 26.—Four daring robberies within the past 24 hours in which one man was seriously wounded and a total of approximately $10,000 obtained by the bandits, are engaging the attention of the police today.

Twenty men, said to have been shooting "craps" in an East Fifth street apartment house, were lined up against a wall by four robbers and relieved of about $7,000. The robbers escaped after an exchange of shots with the police.

John Schmidt, proprietor of a saloon, his bartender and six patrons were held up by three robbers who obtained more than $250 in cash.

After detectives had arrested fourteen men in an alleged gambling house and were awaiting the arrival of the patrol wagon, five masked men entered and were preparing to rob the detectives and their prisoners when one of the detectives opened fire. Herbert Hayes, an elevator operator, was shot and seriously wounded when he attempted to flee. The robbers escaped.

Nine men and a woman were lined up against a wall in a third avenue apartment and robbed of $1,500 in cash and jewelry.

THRIFT IN PRACTICE.

Rummage Sale Helped Many and Netted Women $160.11.

Last week there was a rummage sale, along the lines of the Red Cross salvage shop held on Broadway, and besides proving to be a money-getter for the ladies of St. John's Church, who ran the sale, Miss Helen Westbrook being the manager, so to speak, it proved that while other thrifty women have been making a big burr out of old clothes, and while the objectives made spectacular, Kingston has been doing the sensible thing. Something over a hundred women took advantage of the sale of dollars, hats, and they were not always "poor" women by any means, though without exception they were thrifty women. Clothing comprised the major part of the sale, and those who ran the sale can prove that "old clothes" is not a bad but an accomplished fact here where women have knowledge of how to "make over." Moreover many people in really straitened circumstances were able to buy things they needed from others who were glad no longer to have the care for articles and objects for which they no longer had need. The sale netted the women of St. John's Church the sum of $160.11, there being absolutely no expense, all services and the use of the store being donated.

Days Have Narrow Range.

Saturday noon while John Harson was driving his Ford roadster up the Broadway hill two youngsters in an express wagon riding on the sidewalk just behind the car and it ran off the sidewalk directly in front of the Harson car. Fortunately Mr. Harson was not in time and brought his car to a stop with the front wheel just six inches away from the sidewalk in the extreme narrow.

TRAINMEN EXPEL OUTLAW LOCALS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, April 26.—Members of nine local unions of railway men which have been expelled from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen for participating in an unauthorized strike, are planning today the organization of an independent union, pledged to a "last ditch" fight against the railroads.

Approximately 2,000 men, it is declared, are members of the ousted locals.

The local unions involved are chiefly in the Jersey City section and include workmen of the Erie, Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley, Hudson and Manhattan, and West Shore railroads.

A walkout of engineers of the Lackawanna road, which Edward McHugh, leader of the strikers, announced Saturday would occur this morning, failed to materialize, according to statements by railroad officials and the Brotherhood of Railroad Locomotive Engineers.

ERECTING STATE STONE CRUSHER

Work was started today erecting the stone crushing plant on the Cassidy quarry recently purchased by the Kingston Fair Ground Association. The quarry being located at the rear of Hurley avenue. The stone will be gotten out by the State Highway department under the direction of Charles E. Scib, superintendent for this district of the maintenance department of highways. Several big auto trucks which the United States government turned over to the State of New York have arrived to cart crushed stone to the various roads of the county in this section, and in a short time about twenty-five men will be put to work at the crusher and quarry.

TEITZER FELL TO HIS DEATH

Sunday morning Coroner W. N. Conner was called to Ruby to investigate the death of a man whose body was found about 11 o'clock on the floor of a barn connected with a hotel there. The man was Fred Teitzer, who is 64 years of age, according to an insurance policy for $100 held by a man of that place. Teitzer has been living in that section for about fifty years according to old residents, having worked for various farmers and at road houses along the Saugerties road. He slept in the hay mow of the barn and his body was found on the lower floor. It being thought he fell from the mow. Coroner Conner was accompanied to the place by Dr. William Kemble of this city who after an examination was of the opinion that Teitzer had died instantly as the top of his head was crushed to a pulp. The remains were taken in charge by the coroner, and brought to his undertaking rooms on Fair street. It is said that Teitzer had been married but was not living with his wife.

AN EDUCATED HEN.

It Likes to Lay For the Gas Company Boys.

James A. Phelan, the well known Broadway grocer, is the owner of a flock of hens. One of the hens has acquired the habit of strolling next door to the Kingston Gas and Electric Company's office, and standing in the front entrance where it clances through the plate glass door into the office. If not admitted it taps on the glass until some one's attention is called. Then Edward Phelan, who he calls "Babe" goes to the door and admits the hen which greedily follows him downstairs to the cellar where it hops into a box filled with excelsior and squats contentedly. A few minutes later her joyful cackle is heard floating up the cellar stairs, and then a glance discloses the fact that she has laid another egg. "Babe" is the name of this educated hen, and she is a first class layer.

OVERALL WEDDING AS PLANNED

Frederick-Reinhardt Ceremony at Waldorf-Astoria Saw All of Bridal Party and Minister in Working Garb—Cost of Trousseau $6 Per Cent.

In a phase of Saturday's local assault upon the H. C. L. the expense of one of the most costly expressions of sartorial art—a wedding dress—was reduced just 96 per cent. This novel object lesson was furnished by Miss Gertrude Reinhardt of 28 Aetna street, Cypress Hills, Brooklyn, and W. Ramsey Frederick of 204 West 85th street, who were married in the Waldorf-Astoria just as the protest parade was starting. The bride wore a wedding dress of blue chambray gingham that cost exactly $4. The bridegroom wore conventional blue overalls, and the clergyman, the Rev. Dr. W. D. Tuckey, pastor of the Andrews Methodist Episcopal Church, Cypress Hills, and the best man, Joseph R. Reinhardt, Jr., brother of the bride, also donned blue jeans. To be consistent the maid of honor, Miss Frances Greiner of Garden City, wore a dress of blue checked gingham.

When the bride said she was willing to sacrifice the white satin, point lace and orange blossoms, so dear to the conventional bride's heart, and become an object lesson in economy, Mrs. W. K. Frederick, mother of the bridegroom, said she would make her a wedding dress that would bring down the cost of a wedding gown almost 100 per cent, and thus came into vogue the overall jumper suit for the feminine world.

The bride's overall wedding dress was a one piece suit of chambray gingham with a jumper waist and a modified harem skirt reaching well above the ankles. The skirt's openings for the bridal ankles were edged with narrow bands of white lace. The sleeves and a deep turnover collar were of white lawn.

Bride and bridegroom met while he was training for the air force of the army at Mineola. When he got his commission he was assigned to the Intelligence Department and was for some time a dispatch hearer in France. They renewed their romance after the armistice. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Reinhardt. Their home after their wedding trip will be in Kingston, N. Y.—Sunday's Sun and New York Herald.

N. Y. FUR AUCTION.

Sales for First Week Amount to $5,975,000.

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, April 26.—Sales for the first week of the fur auction in the Masonic Hall here reached $5,975,000 Saturday, due largely to the good average prices brought by about 188,000 skunk skins that were sold. Sales for the day were $1,250,000. Much of the skunk appeared to be bought for export and the choicest skins brought $3.20 each. The poorest brought 90 cents apiece. High price for the day was registered by polar bear, the top in this case being $99. Of the smaller skins, wolverine touched the best mark at $22, with a low price of $4. Compared with the prices obtained at the sale of the New York Fur Auction Sales Corporation here last April, the biggest advance was shown by Russian Sibir, which went up 75 per cent. German fitch advanced 60 per cent. Kolinsky came next with 40 per cent. Australian opossum and skunk followed with advance of 35 per cent each.

FATE OF BOXING IN SMITH'S HANDS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, April 26.—The fate of boxing in New York state is in the hands of Governor Alfred Smith today.

The Walker boxing bill, providing for fifteen-round bouts to a decision and creating a state boxing commission of three members, has been passed by both houses of the state legislature and all that is needed to make it a law is the signature of the governor.

If Governor Smith signs the Walker bill New York city will resume the position it once held as the world center of boxing.

The Walker bill is similar to the Horton law under which twenty-round bouts to decisions were staged here in the past, but it has features which will tend to eliminate unscrupulous boxers and promoters whose activities resulted in the killing of the sport during Governor Whitman's regime.

Under the Walker bill, referees, boxers, managers of boxers, physicians and promoters will be licensed. Even seconds, timekeepers and trainers will have to secure certificates from the boxing commission.

Clubs in first class cities will be taxed $750 for licenses while those in cities of the second class will have to pay $500 and in other places $350 will be the cost of a license to conduct boxing contests.

If the Walker bill is signed by Governor Smith, New York will undoubtedly get the Dempsey-Carpenter bout if the contest is ever staged in this country.

Tex Rickard, the promoter is said to have the first call on Dempsey. Rickard is the chairman of the boxing commission of the International Sporting Club of New York and it is believed the club has the inside track in the race for the match between the champion and his French rival.

KINGSTON SCOUTS BEAT WOODLAND

On Friday afternoon last there was a basketball game played between the District 1 (Kingston) Boy Scouts and the new Scout troop of Woodland School at Phoenixia. The Kingston line-up was:

Rowland and Gregory, forwards; Beecher, center; Hyatt and Davis, guards; Snyder and DePuy, subs.

That of the Woodland School was: Bole and Wilson, forwards; Imburgia, center; Lipscomb and Applegate, guards; Trayum, sub.

The game proved to be one of the most interesting of the season and at times it was fast and furious, for the most part the score being a tie, with favors varying. During the game Beecher had to be dropped out, owing to a sprained ankle, and DePuy took his place. During the last two minutes of the game some of the fastest playing was done and when the whistle blew at the end of the second half the score stood 29 to 18 in favor of the Kingston Scouts. Rowland's score was 11 for the Kingston team and Imburgia made a score of 12 for the Woodland team.

Now that the basketball season is over, arrangements are being completed this week for the Boy Scouts' baseball league. Already a number of challenges have been issued. One game has been played between the Scouts of New Paltz and Wallkill last Saturday, but the results are not yet known here. Any Scoutmaster who has a team wishing to give a challenge may do so and have it accepted if he will notify the Scout Executive of his wish so to do. The coming Scout athletic season promises to be one of much interest.

On Saturday last, Scout Executive Muhlenmann took the Ellenville Troop for a fifteen mile hike over the mountains of that vicinity. The object of the hike was to give the boys some examinations, also to look for a camp site for the Scouts for the coming summer.

SMITH SILENT ON SPECIAL SESSION

With Legislators Gone Home Governor Has Hundreds of Bills To Pass Upon Including Most Important of Session—Many Constitutional Amendments.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, N. Y., April 26.—The 1920 legislature which adjourned about four o'clock yesterday morning, passed over 1,500 of the 3,500 or more measures presented it and left for Governor Smith hundreds of them to be passed upon by him within the thirty day bill period which expires May 24.

The governor has already placed on the state's statute books over 300 laws and it is expected that when May 24 comes, the 1920 laws will have reached approximately 800 as compared with the 650 put on the books by the governor last year.

Chief among the bills in the hands of the governor are the Walker-Gillett 2.75 percent beer bill and the Walker-Gillett boxing bill, both of which legislative leaders in the assembly contended even up to the time of the taking of the vote, would be defeated. The Lockwood-Donohue bill increasing the compensation of the teachers of the state, the bill which would repeal the daylight saving law, the Lusk sedition bills and the measures designed to bar the Socialist party from the election polls also are before the governor for his disposition.

With the regular session ended but a few hours ago, there is already considerable talk at the capitol that the governor will call a special session in an effort to force through his reconstruction and social welfare program of legislation, which suffered badly at the hands of the Republican legislature. Governor Smith so far has declined to say whether he will take this action.

The legislature approved a much larger number of proposed constitutional amendments than usual. They included the proposal to increase the salaries of senators and assemblymen, increased salaries for the court of appeals judges, provision for optional form of county government, exemption of the educational appropriations from debt limit, authorization for the creation of children's and domestic relations courts, extension of payments of compensation to workers contracting occupational diseases, a proposal to permit absentee voting and the Republican reconstruction program dealing with state departmental or reorganization designed by the majority to offset the governor's reconstruction program which they defeated.

The legislative halls were practically deserted today. Most of the lawmakers left for home yesterday.

MILTON MAX LOST.

Inability To Speak English Brought Italian Back Home.

Some days ago Julius Santoro, an aged Italian, left his home in Milton to visit his daughter in Pennsylvania. Although he can speak no word of English his relatives believed he could make the trip without difficulty. For several days members of the crew of the Pine Bush train on the Erie Crawford Branch noticed an aged passenger on their train whose destination was apparently in doubt. The man, who spoke no English, made several trips over the line. Saturday morning the matter was reported to Erie Detective William Kane who turned the man, who proved to be Santoro, over to the Middletown police. The police, through an interpreter, learned of Santoro's difficulty and finally placed him on an O. & W. train and he started back to his home in Milton.

Cock Fights And Crap Shooting.

Kingston sports were largely represented late Saturday night at a cocking match between Eddyville and Poughkeepsie birds that was pulled off in the town of Rosendale. By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, April 26.—The supreme court today decided in the case of the government against the Reading Railroad Company to restrain monopoly of commerce by it in anthracite coal and to prevent transportation in violation of the "anti-trust" clause of the constitution that there is such a monopoly as charged by the government and directs the dissolution of the railroads and the mining companies.

OFFICERS ALERT BUT NO CRIME

Anna B. Wiarda, Reported Kidnapped By People She Was Boarding With At Saugerties, Held Up At Newburgh And Found To Be In Auto With Brother And Two Cousins.

There was considerable excitement at Saugerties Saturday night when it was reported that Anna B. Wiarda had been kidnapped from the home of M. R. Fooks. Sheriff Smith was notified and immediately notified the state authorities of the facts as he received them from Saugerties. As a result the state troopers placed a watch over all of the highways and the city authorities were notified to keep a watch out for the Cadillac car in which the party were returning to New York city.

The affair as reported by the Fooks family at Saugerties was that some one had come to their house where the girl was boarding and had carried her away without authority.

An investigation by Sheriff Smith however showed the girl had been taken away by her brother who had learned of the whereabouts of his sister and was simply taking her home.

As a result of the prompt action taken by Sheriff Smith and the local authorities the car was stopped at Newburgh and the party held until an investigation was made. It developed that the girl's parents, wealthy residents of Brooklyn, had sent her with a maid up to Saugerties to board two or three years ago. She was supposed by her brother to be boarding at the Maxwell House in that village but instead she had been with the Fooks family. Some time ago her parents died and the girl's brother, who is one of the executors of his father's estate, when he learned of his sister's location, immediately came to Saugerties to take her home.

When he arrived in Saugerties Saturday the people where she was staying tried to prevent him from taking her away.

When it was learned that the girl's brother was the person who had called and taken her away the party was released and allowed to continue their way to their home in Brooklyn.

The affair as presented to Sheriff Smith by the Fooks family was that the girl had been taken away by force and the demanded the arrest of the persons responsible. When questioned at Newburgh Wiarda said that he and two cousins of the girl had come to Saugerties with their car and the chauffeur who had driven his father's car on several visits to Saugerties, before his death, and that there had been no force used or disorder of any kind.

It appears that there was a trust fund left by the girl's father which supplied funds for the board of herself and her maid.

NO MORE GLARING AUTO HEADLIGHTS

With the passage of the Gillett-Towner anti-glare headlight laws in the senate last week, the first of the safety measures advocated by the New York State Automobile Association has been enacted. A dazzling headlight law has been in effect in New York state for two years, but it has never been properly enforced because there was no designated authority to enforce the measure. State troopers have made attempts to arrest violators but under a ruling from the attorney general, troopers could not make arrests during the day.

Under the provisions of the Gillett-Towner bill, cars are required to be equipped with non-glaring headlights both day and night, and Major Chandler, superintendent of the state troopers, will issue orders for his troopers to enforce the law rigidly, just as soon as the governor signs the bill.

The other provision of the new bill requires every car owner to show proof to the secretary of state that his car is properly equipped with non-glaring lights, before a license for the car is granted.

In speaking of these new bills, A. J. Deer, director of the New York State Automobile Association, said: "While New York was one of the first states to enact a dazzling headlight law the law was so drawn that it was impossible to enforce it. These new bills—the Gillett-Towner bills—simply provide a means of enforcing the old law. It will now be impossible to secure a license until a motor vehicle is equipped with some anti-glare device. To take care of the cars that have already been licensed for 1920, the new measure permits state troopers and other police authorities to examine a car on the road in the daytime and if it is not properly equipped, the driver may be arrested."

"Nearly every motorist has one time or another encountered the dazzling light on the road at night. Last year there were 1,270 fatal automobile accidents, a number of which were directly caused by blinding lights. The Gillett-Towner bills will lessen this menace in a large degree, and no longer will the careful motorist be afraid to take his car out at night. The motorists of this state, through their organization, the New York State Automobile Association, have fought persistently for this measure and thanks are due the legislature for placing this means of enforcement on the books."

Major Chandler's men will start an active campaign against violators just as soon as the law becomes effective, which will be so when the governor signs the bill.

WOOD PARLOR MEETINGS START

A few days ago Mrs. Francis J. Higginson was appointed by telegram from Julian Cutting as chairman of the woman's department of the Leonard Wood campaign committee of Ulster county. In order to hold the inaugural meeting, Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck offered her home and men and women of the community were invited to a meeting at Mrs. Hasbrouck's home on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Higginson opened the meeting and introduced the speakers, who were Mrs. Mary Hatch Willard, member of the executive committee of the Leonard Wood campaign committee of Greater New York, of which Herbert Satterlee is chairman, Mrs. Willard being the organizer and chairman of the parlor meetings campaign committee, and Mr. Brunell, an attorney of New York city. Mrs. Willard, who is a personal friend of General Wood, explained the plan of the parlor meetings and both speakers then told of the various qualifications of General Wood for the candidacy of the United States. Additional meetings looking to the perfecting of the Ulster county parlor meetings committee plans will be held later.

ST. JOSEPH'S $613 OVER ITS QUOTA

All the captains and workers of St. Joseph's parish met yesterday morning to make reports in the Drive for Catholic Charities. It was announced by Chairman John E. Mahar that the drive had been a tremendous success from the very beginning.

A total of $82 pledges amounting to $2,413.00 was reported up to Sunday. As this is $613.00 over the quota required, everybody was delighted with the results obtained.

Father Brody, the Honorary Chairman and pastor, congratulated the workers and thanked them for their very efficient services in the campaign.

It is intended to keep the present committees and teams in office to make a canvass of the unredempted pledges should there be any who fail to make payments before the time required, June 1 of each year. Of the amount pledged $1,780.00 has already been paid in to the treasurer which shows how enthusiastically the members of the parish are co-operating.

The report by teams is as follows: Team 1, Capt. E. F. Flanagan, pledges, 137; amount, $455.00. Team 2, Capt. Harry Howard, pledges, 234; amount, $669.50. Team 3, Capt. Florian Wingert, pledges, 199; amount, $465.50. Team 4, Capt. Frank Myers, pledges, 124; amount, $313.50. Team 5, Capt. Charles Mullen, pledges, 208; amount, $523.50.

WILL REPEAT MUSICAL DANCANT

The entertainment by the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church which was so successfully rendered on April 12 will be repeated at St. Joseph's School Hall on Thursday, April 29, to accommodate those who were unable to get into the hall on the occasion of the first performance. Those who appreciate a really funny and enjoyable entertainment by home talent will not want to miss this event.

Five prominent and handsome young men of the parish, will again demonstrate to the young ladies how a real lady should act, sing and dance. The gowns and make up have been a constant source of bewilderment to those of the fair sex who witnessed the first entertainment provided by these "near ladies."

In addition, prominent men of the parish will again give evidence that Kingston possesses talent in the vocal field hitherto undreamed of. No one will ever see Kiernan Ryan in his specialty and long to see the diminutive Harry Lauder again. Harry's star has set while Kiernan's has just risen.

The entertainment is under the direction of Mrs. J. William Leary and that fact is sufficient guarantee of the quality of the musical talent to be provided.

Jose Sanchez, federal deputy, is reported to have revolted.

We sometimes overlook the value of our nearest neighbors. Next to Great Britain, Canada is our best customer, buying from us during the seven months ending January 31 just twice as much as did all the countries of South America.

Governor Edwards is being boomed for president by an anti-prohibition organization called the Order of Camels. The choice of symbolism is rather unexpected, in view of the fact that the camel can be the most thirsty of all creatures and yet patiently endure.

According to report, Sabbath observance has been chosen as the next reform to be put through by the W. C. T. U. Let us hope it will not go to extremes. The story comes from a Virginia town of the shooting of a boy in a scuffle with a policeman because the boy did not obey the local ordinance requiring everybody either to go to church or remain shut up in his home.

Thoughtful observers have welcomed as wholesome the franker treatment of the responsibilities of motherhood on the stage and on the screen, but, according to report, the Pennsylvania State Board of Motion Picture Censors has ruled out a representation of a woman making baby clothes on the ground that children believe that babies are brought by the stork!

TWO IRELANDS.

Americans are apt to forget that there are virtually two Irelands, one at the north and the other at the south, and that the difficulties of a settlement tolerable to both are very great. It may almost be said that there are now two Irelands even at the south, the one favoring a liberal home rule arrangement within the British empire and the other, the Sinn Féin element, demanding an independent Irish republic. In an effort to meet such a situation, the new home rule bill, which passed its second reading in the House of Commons by a large majority on March 21, provides two parliaments and sets up two largely self-governing political divisions in Ireland. This subject is discussed with admirable frankness and good temper by Sir Auckland Geddes, the new British ambassador, in a statement issued immediately after his arrival with his American wife in this country.

The object, he says, is to "provide political machinery whereby the antagonized sections of the Irish people can work out their own political internal salvation." Like all previous efforts, the new bill fails to satisfy contending factions averse to compromise. Of course the Sinn Féiners are hostile to it, and, though the Ulster Six County area accepts it, the acceptance is reluctant. Yet the British parliament seems to have done about all that could be expected. A vote for an Irish republic at England's back door could not be obtained even if north Ireland welcomed instead of violently repudiating such a proposition. So after careful study of the question, says Sir Auckland, the British government "is convinced that now the only hope of ending the centuries-old dispute is to place fairly and squarely on the shoulders of Irishmen in Ireland the constitutional responsibility of finding for themselves within the framework of the British empire the solution for their political differences." Or, in American parlance, it is up to the Irish factions themselves to get together on a workable compromise.

When this home rule bill becomes law, as the new ambassador views the matter, it will be the duty of British subjects "not domiciled in Ireland to stand aside and leave those who live there to solve their problems." Ambassador Geddes ventures positively to suggest further that it will also be "helpful if the many in all parts of the world who are not British subjects, but are interested in Ireland, will likewise stand aside and leave the Irish in Ireland to grapple with their own political differences." In other words, it will serve no useful purpose. It will remain rather than forward a settlement, if Americans of Irish extraction and their friends become the partisans of one Ireland and the opponents of the other, denouncing the British government for not likewise taking sides. The new ambassador was too diplomatic to add, as he had a right to, that Americans who would not tolerate British interference in this country's internal affairs would do well to leave the internal affairs of the British empire alone, or at the very least be willing to await agreement among the Irish themselves.

TRIANGLES WIN.

Defeat Phoenixia Five By Score 24 to 22.

Playing before a crowd that packed the hall at Phoenixia, the Triangles of this city defeated the Phoenixia team by the score of 24 to 22.

Johnson led in the attack, rolling the ball through the net eight times for a total of sixteen points. He was ably backed up by Spalt and Wilson who had eight points each to their credit.

Wheeler's speed and floorwork was a revelation to the Phoenixia fans.

The Phoenixia attack was shattered by the wonderful guard work of Robins and Spalt who time after time would break up the pass work when near the basket.

Merrinow and Spink were the stars for the Phoenixia team with Bob Gross following close in their footsteps. Gross whose guard work held Wheeler to one basket was forced to leave the game late in the second half. Two minutes later he was followed by Johnson who went out of the game with an injured arm.

The Triangles had no "sub" and Captain Townsend consented to play the last seven minutes with four men on a side. The score and line-up follow:

Triangles	F. B. P. T. P.
Johnson	16

GREENE HALTS ROAD BUILDING

Advances In Materials And Cost Of Labor Cause Commissioner To Announce That Until Conditions Change Only Maintenance And Completion Of Existing Contracts Will Be Carried Out.

State of New York
 Commission of Highways
 Albany, N. Y., April 24, 1934.
 To His Excellency, Governor Alfred E. Smith and the Taxpayers of the State of New York:

In November 1933 this commission outlined its road construction policy for 1934 and published a program of individual roads proposed to be constructed. This program was based on and with the hope that conditions would not be materially different from those of 1933.

In accordance with that published program four lettings have been held covering seventy highways, but only thirty acceptable bids were received and these lettings showed that there was little or no competition among contractors. In the last letting of April 15th, including fifteen new highways, only five acceptable proposals were received. Since then there have been sharp advances in the cost of materials.

After a careful analysis of the situation, it is evident that it is not good business or in the best interests of the state to continue the proposed program, and this commission has determined to withdraw all roads advertised for new construction in the letting of May 5th and wishes to announce that there will be no further new roads offered for construction until the situation shows a decided change for the better.

Advertisements for maintenance work will be continued and it is proposed to devote every energy of the department to the completion of existing construction contracts and the maintenance and repair of our present road system.

The conditions which have forced this commission to defer new construction are briefly as follows:

1. Shortage and high cost of labor.
2. Shortage of railway cars and uncertainty of transportation.
3. Lack of competition in bidding.
4. Seemingly unjustifiable advance in cost of materials.
5. Commercial quarries restricting output and in some instances closing down.

6. Necessity of assuring—by utilizing labor which would otherwise be diverted to new work—the completion of the maintenance program which because of the present condition of our highways is an economic necessity and more essential than new construction.

7. The obligation of the state to protect existing contracts from labor shortage by not offering new work at advanced prices in competition, thus insuring the completion of all existing contracts. At present there are 183 uncompleted but active contracts with approximately 600 miles unfinished. If the policy is pursued of constantly increasing estimates and permitting contractors to bid against themselves at ever increasing prices, the same condition would be created that existed from 1916 to 1919 when the roads were broken down and abandoned causing a representation approximately $50 million of torn up highways, in practically every county in the state.

As soon as the conditions mentioned above show a change for the better and it is clear that road work can be continued economically and without detriment to the state's interests, the program for new construction announced by this commission for 1934 will be resumed.

THE DOG PLAGUE.

Should Be Dog-Town, Says Citizens—Should Be Kept At Home.

"Kingston" is misnomer; for it is not King-town, but Dog-Town. Let us have a referendum on a change of name and let us aspire to a harmony in our town life that will rival the music of the spheres.

This morning I saw a sight in the heart of our business section that rivaled any thing I have ever seen in Constantinople, eleven dogs and I think there was one around the corner, moving in a herd, four or more barking, dogs of all sizes and colors, some kin to the wolves from the mountains, others gigantic enough to pull a German cart, a sight to frighten into hysterics many a timid woman or a less courageous man. They kept the side walk, never turning aside for a finely dressed lady just like a German lieutenant in the olden days of 1914.

Many of these denizens of the town are not watered or sufficiently fed so that they must of necessity go nosing round into everybody's yard and "garbage buckets." It is "root hog or die." I know a man who has a bird bath into which a small stream of water constantly runs. From north, south, east and west the dogs come in droves to get a drink since the town "is dry." Four or five dogs are often seen rolling on his lawn. He has tried to grow evergreens as have others but the dogs killed them. He tried them, but when the snow covered the trees, the dogs climbed to the top and killed them. Shall we have dogs or trees, dogs or security on the sidewalk, barbarism or civilization?

Instead of a dog tax there should be a fine of fifty cents for every time a dog is found off its own premises without a leash and full liability for all damages committed.

A CITIZEN.

Florida's Big Spring.

What is the largest spring in the world? Florida has one which must be near the head of the list. This is called Wakulla spring. It is 400 feet across, is 80 feet deep and flows at the rate of 120,000 gallons of water every minute. It gives rise to a river 250 feet wide at its source. This mammoth spring is situated about fifteen miles from Tallahassee.

AT THE THEATRES.

Myrtle-Harder Co. at Opera House Quartet at Keene's.

Gladys Brockwell in "Flames of the Flash" is the photoplay attraction at Keene's tonight presented with the Fox News weekly and Bray Photograph. As a special added attraction Keene's will present the "Gypsy Four Quartet," a company of artists who have sung in all the larger cities from coast to coast and been hailed as a triumphant success wherever they have appeared. This quartet will remain throughout the week changing their numbers nightly. The special photoplay for tomorrow and Wednesday, starring Bert Lytell is from the pen of Sir Gilbert Parker and known to fame through its sensational stage success, "The Right of Way."

William Desmond in "Whitewashed Walls" at the Auditorium is the story of a merry bit of travesty on the comic operas dealing with the Latin-American countries. Lightning Bryce serial as usual. Tomorrow Charles Ray in "Bill Henry" and a Billy West Comedy.

The Myrtle-Harder Company opens a week's engagement tonight at the Kingston Opera House in The House of Glass and theatregoers of Kingston have in store for them a play of unusual interest. First it is a fine play, next its story is from an actual occurrence that a prominent railroad president was involved in. There was thousands of dollars spent trying to hush up the scandal, but the newspapers got some part of it through the office and phone girl in a prominent detective agency. Result was the story was headlined throughout the country—law suits, libel suits followed each other. But as the papers had published "facts" in each instance they were usually dismissed before they got to trial. Other plays to be presented are "Nothing But the Truth," "Remnant," "A Young Girl's Romance," "Lilac Time," and "Sis Hopkins."

Beaver's Habits Fixed. A careful study of beaver indicates that their acts and habits and customs are all instinctive, having in no way improved or advanced their original customs since the discovery of the species. They build their dams and lodges, provide their food supply and pursue the same course as they did thousands of years ago.

The Art of Not Hearing.

The art of not hearing should be taught by all. It is fully as important to domestic happiness as a cultivated ear, for which both money and time are expended. There are so many things which it is painful to hear, so many which we want not to hear, so very many which, if heard, will disturb the temper, corrupt simplicity and sincerity, detract from contentment and happiness, that everyone should be educated to take in or shut out sounds according to his or her pleasure.—Sardis.

Is It Napoleon's Bath?

False conceptions prevail of St. Helena, where Napoleon lived and died after his defeat and imprisonment at Waterloo. It is credited with being a most ugly island. Exactly the opposite is the case. Not only is it not a rock, but a very beautiful, well wooded and well-watered island, and also on the whole, if one had to choose the best perfect climate existing anywhere in this world, the place would have to go to St. Helena, and especially that part in which Longwood (the prisoner's residence) is situated.

Why Wedding Ring Is Plain.

From the early times gold was used for the wedding ring, and tradition has it that the ring should be a plain gold band. It has been long recognized that the diamond ring can never replace the plain gold ring. A reason for the preference given to the ring without the setting is offered by Father in his "Holy State" where he says: "Marriage with a diamond ring (diamonds will, because the interlarding of the circle suggests that the reciprocal regard of the spouse might not be perpetual."

MAY MILK PRICE
IN DISPUTE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 26.—City officials were concerned today over the possibility of a milk shortage resulting from disputes over the price of milk between the producers and the distributing companies. The dispute involves the price to be paid the producers for milk during May.

The Dairymen's League, an organization of producers, is reported to have determined to sell no milk less than $2.25 per hundredweight, claiming that they cannot afford to accept a smaller price in view of the present high cost of food. The distributors have offered to buy milk at $2.20 per hundred pounds. This is 25 cents less than the price that has prevailed during April.

They Need Help.

Judging from their advertisement in The Freeman today, Forsyth & Davis are more interested in obtaining clerks to wait on customers than in attracting customers, as their entire advertising space is given up to an attempt to add to their store force. When business comes in so fast that it cannot be taken care of, there must be a good reason in the way of fair dealing and a complete stock, proving that the firm is a desirable one to work for.

A very fine dance program followed which was enjoyed by the older folks as well as by the young people attending.
The greatest event of the season was enacted at the Monticello Lyceum Friday night, April 23, when the Ellenville high school basketball team defeated the Roscoe Five by a score—19-22—so gained the championship. After four games played between the two teams this year the result was at a deadlock until this game was played. A large crowd including high school seniors, juniors and sophomores and a score of friends, and Wright's Martial Corps went by auto to Monticello for the game. The local line up was E. H. S. Glennon, Reppert, Wilkow, Roscoeberger, Lake and Meyers. Roscoe D. Albee, R. Albee, Curry, Ward and Bennett. The entire company returned in the early hours of Saturday morning reporting a good game and well played.

On Thursday afternoon several friends gave Mrs. Sarah Warren a surprise on her 50th birthday. Also the birthday of her son, William Warren, who resides at home. The ladies provided a very fine supper which was enjoyed by this honored and much loved friend and her son. During the afternoon the time was spent in happy reminiscence. Mrs. Warren is well preserved in mind and body for one who has reached the four score mark and it is a happy inspiration to any friend to pay a visit to this friend. May she be spared to celebrate other birthdays.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A BUSINESS man filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

Our average daily gift for all church causes is

- less than we spend for daily papers
- less than a local telephone call
- less than a third of the day's car fare
- less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $30 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty great denominations. They have surveyed their whole task; no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men and women who love America—to you—this week, asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be. The chart printed here is intended merely as a suggestion; it represents a scale of giving of 65—or less.

Six per cent of your earning power; 15/16ths of your life for your own family needs, and 1/16th for your fellow men—is that more than you ought to give?

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better is the world going to be because you passed through?

BRITISH OIL
CORNER EVIDENCE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, April 23.—Magistrates are proceeding with a view to British control of the Shell Oil Company, according to the Daily Mail.

Cables last week and statements from prominent American oil men declared that Great Britain has practically "cornered" the world's visible oil supply outside of the United States, which does not produce enough oil for her own consumption. One British authority estimated that within ten years the United States would be forced to buy annually from British sources 500,000,000 barrels of oil.

FAYORS REFERENDUM.

Mayor Believes People Should Vote on Crossing Elimination.

To the Editor of The Freeman.
The common council having approved the public service commission's order for the elimination of the West Shore grade crossing on Broadway at a recent meeting, it appears certain to the people at large that that body took action too hastily in accepting the commission's order.

The council represents the people, and should ascertain as much as possible, the sentiments of the people they represent before reaching a decision in so important a matter. This question concerns alike the people of the city as well as the taxpayers, for increased taxes mean increased rentals, and as we all know, rents are too high at present.

The best method to definitely ascertain if the people of the city desire the elimination or not at this time would be to hold a referendum, and allow all eligible citizens to vote their approval or disapproval on this important question, which compels the city to expend the entire amount in excess of $125,000 for the acquisition of additional land and for damages to be later determined, the cost of constructing sidewalks, sewers, water mains, etc. Should this expense ultimately multiply three or four times $125,000, or possibly even more, the city will have to bear the entire expenditure alone.

The expense to conduct this referendum would not be very great, and the resulting vote would be proof that the people of the city desire the elimination or not.

TAXPAYER.

NEW PITCHING RULES.

What Batters Must Not Do Under Revised Code.

In the new issue of Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide the "law" will find exactly what the pitcher must not do under the rules as they have been amended for 1923.

He must not rub the ball in the soil.

He must not discolor it with licorice, paraffin, or other foreign substance.

He must not expectorate upon it.

He must not roughen the surface with sand, paper, emery paper, or other hard substance. He will not even be permitted to bound it to an infielder, in order that the cover may be slightly abraded.

No other player is permitted to commit any of the above offenses and then take the ball to the pitcher for delivery. If the pitcher delivers the ball to the batter after this is done he is arbitrarily suspended for ten days.

The correct position for the pitcher to assume when he receives the ball for delivery is to stand on the plate holding it in front of him with both hands. He cannot take either hand from the ball unless he is intending to throw it to first base or deliver it to the batter.

If he drops the ball in the act of delivering it to the batter it is a balk. This latter now makes the balk rule uniform in both major leagues. It had not been so previously.

WAS A PITCHER, TOO.

Another Who Helped Pace Way for "The Advance."

Editor Freeman:

In the interesting article in The Freeman Saturday evening about "eating houses" on the present location of the Advance restaurant, Wall Street, the name of a one-time proprietor was not remembered by the octogenarian whom the writer interviewed, being Abram Brownson, who kept a hotel and restaurant there.

Mr. Brownson came originally from Groverton county, and also at one time ran the Hotel Ulster on Broadway and Railroad avenue. He was a bachelor in the good old days and played at country dances in the towns of Groverton and Ulster county for several years. It was stated that Campbell & Moran were the predecessors of the Advance restaurant, but it should have been Sapp & Moran. Mr. Campbell having been employed by Patrick Sapp at the hotel there for a long period.

ANOTHER OLD TUNE.

High Stones Get a New End.

Tradition tells that collection of building were performed by "St. Tamen," in the Scottish highlands, by rubbing on the suffering man or beast certain old water-worn stones. These stones, still carefully preserved in the island mill of Kilmartin, at the western end of Loch Tay. Lord Freuchville, the owner, has loaned the old mill for a handloom weaving factory; but the ladies have insisted on preserving the stones, and to give the public facilities for viewing them.

On Christmas eve, as on every Christmas eve for centuries past, the stones in their cradle of the mill were covered with a new "load" of requests and other work brought down by the constant current of the River Dochart and left dropped on the rocks. The building must on no account be pulled by the hand of man.

ADDRESSED HUGUENOT DINNER

At Celebration of 100th Anniversary of Admiral Coligny's Birth. Judge
Clearwater, as Principal Speaker,
Honored Kingston and Found Great Favor.

The Huguenot Society of America celebrated the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of Admiral Coligny, the great Huguenot leader, by a dinner at the Plaza Hotel, in New York, on Friday evening, which according to the New York evening newspapers, was attended by the "Huguenot and Knickerbocker Noblesse" of New York and Boston.

Judge Clearwater was the principal speaker and paid a most eloquent tribute to the influence of the Huguenots in the establishment of the American republic. He emphasized the fact not generally known, that it was Admiral Coligny who first suggested the emigration of the Protestants of France to America, one hundred years before Colbert suggested foreign colonization. The judge said that the Huguenots gave three presidents out of nine to the congress of the confederation, and to New York,
New Jersey, Massachusetts, South Carolina and Florida some of her most distinguished citizens. That it was the Hollander and the Huguenot who in the formation of this republic lent his energies to the establishment of political equality, the independence of the judiciary, the authority of the laws, and who enunciated the great principles that this was a government of laws and not of men, who in all the colonies from the earliest emigrant to this day, has insisted upon the capacity of the people for self government.

The judge invited his hearers to visit Kingston, which he told them was a place that had first given a refuge to the Huguenots who went from there to New Paltz and Hurley.
He said that they would find his beloved Kingston one of the most beautifully situated places in the world, commanding a finer view of the Catskill mountains than Geneva in Switzerland did of the range of the Jura.
It was a city of approximately thirty thousand people, notable for a century and a half for the liberality of the opportunities it afforded for a broad fundamental education, and unlike larger municipalities of which they might have heard, it possessed a police department which never had been tainted with a suspicion of corruption or of graft.

At the close of the judge's address he received an unusual tribute, when upon the motion of General Charles F. Roe, seconded by ex-Senator Du-Pont of Delaware, the five hundred diners rose from their seats and cheered him.

"Shen-Pike."
Not all advertisements contain the word "Shen-Pike" but it was in common use in this country a century ago and therefore an interesting light on the character of some of our thirty ancestors. A "Shen-Pike" was a short bowed staff that was used on one side of a village and joined it again on the other. —Yonk's Companion.

BLUE MOUNTAIN.

Blue Mountain, April 26.—The members of the C. E. Society will hold a social at the church lecture room, Tuesday evening, April 27. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

in the aviation school at Great Lakes, Ill., has been transferred to Rockaway Beach, N. Y.

Pigeons as Fire Fighters.

The pigeon branch of the navy has 2,000 birds. Pigeons are available for the forest patrol. Experiments are going on constantly in the effort to increase the efficiency of the birds.

Washington's Ice Melted.

George Washington put up ice. In January, 1775, his diary showed he filled a city well under a summer house and another well in a cellar.
Under date of June 5 he wrote in his diary: "I found the well in my cellar in which I had laid up a store of ice, but there was not the smallest particle remaining. I then opened the other reservoir, in which I found a large store."

Long and Short Rejoice.

The rejoicing taken in British history is that of Queen Victoria, which she gave on June 24, 1857, and which will be given on January 22, 1907. The queen, 7 months and 2 days old, was born in that of Edward III, who began to reign on June 24, 1312, and was slain in battle with Henry IV, the son of Richard, who reigned in Henry VII.
